06 The Community Life Museum and Traditional Craft

Get a Feel for the Real Chiang Mai at Ban Rai Jai Sook ( the Community Life Museum) and Bring Back Your happiness.

Peaceful time at the village in a rural area, about an hour from downtown, we will visit the Ban Rai Jai Sook, the bamboo house which was built by a local artist. At present the house is used as the place where the visitors would have a chance to be shared the local wisdom, how the people live with nature, how to do the natural dye and hand weaving,

During the program we will see different techniques of cloth weaving and the processing of eco-friendly traditional Thai textiles by using 'Indigo' which is called 'Kham' in Thai. It is a plant that grows in the forest. Kham is a very old natural dye. The people of the tropical world have made indigo blue from the trees of the region.

Learn how to make a cloth, cotton weaving and to see how people make our costumes. Enjoy the DIY workshop with young and skillful facilitators; dyeing cloth and proudly making your souvenirs.
